POLITICAL ETHICS.

We shall not be deemed visionary if we assert that the trend of public opinion throughout the Dominion is very decidedly towards higher ends than even great party victories.

In mere partizan strife a political leader is usually applauded by the rank and file of his followers, if only the results of his policy accord with their views or promote their interests. In their minds his course is justified by the event, whatever the ethical principles acted upon, or the instrumentalities employed. Success is their sole test of right or wrong.

The axiom, first enunciated by a bold and capable statesman, that "Nothing succeeds like success" has been adopted and abused by shallow empirics in whose eyes success wears the form of popular applause, a lucrative official position or even a profitable public contract. The statement is a sound logical truth of great practical utility, or it is a narrow and mischievous fallacy—according to the meaning which we attach to the word "success."

A public man with little ability and less principle may strut for a brief space in the public eye, pushed forward or followed by a throng of the needy and greedy; but, if his success has been attained by tacking popular prejudice or trucking to powerful combinations, he will inevitably "Return to his earth," and in that moment his thoughts perish. The sooner he is politically dead and forgotten the better for himself and the country.

We are not dealing in any personal allusions now; nor are these, otherwise, various as they are of recent happenings. We refer to influences, most corrupt in purpose and pernicious in effect, which have constituted a difficulty and a danger wherever representative institutions have been adopted among men.

In the new North-West, at least, the country demands sound principle in legislation and honest method in administration; and the public man who succeeds in educating public opinion on the lines of eternal truth and righteousness will be the successful man whether in office or not.

Our politics are in the transition stage; our institutions are now taking character from the minds devoted to public affairs. Formative agencies operate for good or ill. That they may work lasting advantage all patriotic men need vigilantly to guard against the littleness of personal gain, and the narrowness of mere party politics.

SERVICE OF SONG.

An Oratorio by the Choir of St. John the Baptist Church.

A service of sacred song, entitled "Christ and His Soldiers," was rendered by the Choir of St. John the Baptist Church, on Monday evening. The programme was divided into two parts. The first part was descriptive of the life of Christ; the second of the life of his followers. Miss Marion Stevenson presided at the organ and special mention must be made of the manner in which she performed her difficult duties.

The solo "By Jesus' Grave" by Mrs. Tapley, and the duet "He Wipes the Tears from Every Eye" by Mrs. Tapley and Miss Picken were deserving of special note. At the close of part one there was an offertory in aid of the Building Fund of the Church.

The following was the Complete programme:—
PART I.—Processional March, Miss Stevenson; Hymn No. 53, Fall Choir; Hymn No. 482, Fall Choir; Chorus No. 4 in Oratorio, "O Come All Ye Faithful," Fall Choir; Bass Trio, No. 5 in Oratorio, "And the People stood Beholding," Mr. Hammond; Solo, "Calvary," Mr. Lang; Solo, No. 9 in Oratorio, "By Jesus' Grave," Mrs. Tapley; Hymn No. 134, 2nd Tenor, Fall

Choir; Chorus No. 11 in Oratorio, "Our Blest Redeemer," Treble; Chorus No. 12 in Oratorio, "The Lord Assembled," Fall Choir.

PART II.—Introductory March, Miss Stevenson; Hymn No. 45, Fall Choir; Bass Trio and Chorus, No. 15 in Oratorio, "In Token that Thou Shalt not Fear," Messrs. Egerton, Hammond, Thomson and Fall Choir; Hymn No. 270, Fall Choir; Hymn No. 289, Fall Choir; Duets, "He Wipes the Tear from Every Eye," Mrs. Tapley and Miss Picken; Solo, "Rock of Ages," Mr. Ritchie; Hymn No. 109, Fall Choir; Hymn No. 140, 1st Tenor, Fall Choir; Hymn No. 24 in Oratorio, "Le Banquet du Thierce," Fall Choir; Singing, "Lord Keep us Safe this Night."

SMALL POX IN WINNIPEG.

Russian Immigrants Bring in the Dread Disease—All the Cases Under Control.

Winnipeg, April 17.—Winnipeg has received a genuine small pox scare. A Russian child on the west-bound express passing Fort William on Thursday last was discovered to have small pox. The car and passengers were immediately set off the train and are there yet in separate quarantine. A case was also discovered in Winnipeg on Friday morning last. This was a Russian child about nine years of age. This patient arrived on a colonist special which had been several days ahead of No. 1. All the passengers from steamship Vancouver—nearly three hundred in quarantine here. A second case developed Sunday morning. No new cases since. The matter is in the hands of city and provincial boards of health. No fears are entertained of the plague spreading. The authorities desire great credit for their prompt action.

THE BINDER CASE.

Regina vs. Potter and Bunnell— Evidence Given at the Trial.

The following, through lack of space, was carried over from last week's edition of THE TIMES.

W. Jackson Battell, sworn, I live in Moose Jaw and know the w. 34 16-27 s. 2nd Meridian. I am the owner and have held it for ten years. John Burns was in possession as a tenant last year. The amount of $200 mentioned in the lease was not paid on 1st November 1892 as stipulated therein and $150 on January 1, 1893 was also not paid. Burns were paid me during 1892 to the amount of $28. I authorized O. B. Fysh as my bailiff on the 7th January to make distraint for the balance of the rent.

Fysh seized some stuff. I saw him bringing stuff into town. I recognized it as stuff I had seen on the premises. I recognized a binder that I had seen Burns using on the premises. I think this was the same day the warrant was issued. I saw him put the binder in Mr. Walsh's yard. He put it in the corner of the yard and built a fence around it. It was the only binder in the yard. On the day after the stuff was brought in Mr. Potter said to me, "Well, you fellows have been out and seized our binder." I replied "Yes." I think I told him that the seizure was the only remedy I had, as Burns would not make any terms. Afterwards, he (Potter) said in his office, that he had taken advice to see what he could do, but he intended to write to headquarters that night informing the company that the binder had been seized and asking for instructions.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nelson: The lease included chattels. I never measured the land. I think there was between 90 and 100 acres under cultivation. I gave Burns some grain, 3 tons of hay, 60 bushels of wheat, 25 bushels of oats and 15 bushels of barley. No part of the rent was set apart for this grain. The words I used concluding the bargain were, "I'll rent you the place for $350, with these goods and chattels." He paid me no money. I gave him credit for $28. At the commencement of the lease I wanted back two cows. I allowed him $10 apiece off the rental for these cows. Later on in October I wanted another cow and allowed him $8 for that cow. This is how the $28 was made up. I did not direct the bailiff what to seize. I told him to go out and seize enough stuff to cover the amount due. I did not know that Burns had a team belonging to G. M. Annable; nor did I know that there was a binder belonging to the Massey-Harris Company. I had been on the premises before the issuing of the distress warrant. I had dinner at the house some time before. I saw a stove, some benches and a table in the house. I saw a washstand and a dressing case. There was some wheat and potatoes in the kitchen. I do not consider that the house was well furnished. I saw one pig. I had no idea of distress at the time. I know that Potter is the agent of the Massey-Harris Co. in this District. He is in charge of their warehouses on High St. Mr. Bunnell, I believe is also in the employ of the company. Potter told me that he would write the company. The Bailiff subsequently sold the seized property. Burns continued residing in the house for some time after the seizure.

Oswald B. Fysh, sworn, I reside in Moose Jaw. I have acted as bailiff for W. J. Battell. I made a seizure at Mr. Burns' place. I destroyed a Binder. It was about 75 or 100 feet straight south of the house and on the premises. The Binder was in a snow-drift. I loaded it on a sleigh, brought it to town and placed it in Mr. Walsh's Yard. This was on the ninth day of January. I got the warrant on the seventh and executed it on the ninth. I placed it in the yard and fenced it in. I locked the big wheel to the fence. I placed three horses in Mr. Walsh's yard. The Binder remained in the yard until the evening of the 17th. The binder was not there on the morning of the 18th. I gave no one permission to take it out of the yard. I saw a trail leading to the Massey-Harris warehouse. I looked in the window and saw what I supposed to be the binder. I got out and replevin papers and retook possession of the Binder. I identified it as the seized Binder. Mr. Potter was in charge of the warehouse. On the morning the fence I built had been torn down and there had been a panel taken from the main fence and repaired with wire.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nelson: When I executed warrant I met Burns at the door way. I did not enter the house. I do not know what may have been in the house. The horses were in the stable and the binder was south of the house. I saw no pigs. I took three horses and one binder. When I read the warrant to Burns he said it was no good, as there was nothing there belonging to him. I did not attempt to enter the house. I brought Burns and his wife to town. I had little or no conversation with Burns on the way to town.

Burns resisted the seizure. He helped to hitch the horses. Walsh's corral is used for the purpose of impounding cattle. The fence around the binder was sufficient to keep of the cattle. I replevined the binder and after I got it back I sold it. I had no interest in the binder other than as a Bailiff. The machine was in the corral awaiting sale under the distress warrant. Prior to the seizure I supposed the binder was Burns'. There was considerable street talk relative to the binder, and I learned in this way that the binder belonged to the Massey-Harris Co.

To Mr. Scott: I know Mr. Battell's place very well. There was no fence between the house and the road. I do not think the binder was over 80 feet from the door of the house.

Alex. Zoss, sworn, I live in Moose Jaw. I work for Mr. Walsh. I remember Fysh bringing in a binder about the 9th or 10th of January. He placed it in the yard. It was there until the 17th. There was a fence around it. It left the yard during the night. I do not know how it left. I sleep at the stable. I saw the binder about 5.45. I missed it about 6.30 next morning. I do not know how it was taken away. The gate was locked and I had the key. In the morning I discovered that the fence had been torn down.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nelson: Two men are employed in the stable. The key which would open the gate was in my pocket. I know of no other keys which would open the lock. The fence had been taken down and tied up again with wire.

James Cline, sworn: I am a drayman in Moose Jaw and was in that business on the 17th. I saw the defendant on that night. I did not see them early on the morning of the eighteenth. I saw them after dark on the night of the 17th on High St. Saw Potter on Manitoba St. (Here witness was asked if he saw either near the stable and answered "I cannot answer the question it might tend to commit me.") I had a conversation with Potter about a binder. (Here the witness was asked "What was the conversation?") I cannot answer the question. (The last judge compelled the answer.) He asked me to go and haul the binder. At first I refused to haul the binder. I don't know why I refused. Walsh's yard was referred to. I was not there when binder was taken from yard. I saw the binder just outside yard. I saw Potter and Bunnell putting it on my sleigh. It was placed in the Massey-Harris warehouse at Moose Jaw.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nelson: Do not know of my own knowledge that Potter and Bunnell took the binder from the yard. When I first saw the binder it was two or three feet out side the fence. Potter asked me to haul the Massey Harris Co.'s machine. Potter and Bunnell did not put the machine in the warehouse. I was paid by Massey Harris Co. for draying the machine. Potter came to my house and asked me to come to dray the machine. They assisted me to load the machine and I hauled it to the warehouse.

To Mr. Scott: I went at the request of Mr. Potter. Have not yet been paid. I have the cost charged in my books. The binder tilted itself out of the sleigh when I backed it in. It was at Potter's request that I went to Walsh's yard to get the binder.

John Battell, sworn: I am the father of W. J. Battell. I know his farm. The house is 10 rods west on the half section. It is 20 rods south of the north line. Saw the spot where apparently the binder stood; it was directly south of the house. I passed the distance between the house and found it about four rods and two paces. Eleven paces make two rods.

Henry Healey, Sworn:—Went with O. B. Fysh to make seizure. I drove between the house and the binder. The binder was straight south of the house.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nelson: I think the machine was straight south of the house. I judged by the position of the house and by the sun. I should judge that the machine was about 100 feet from the house. It was not near the buildings. Fysh did not attempt to enter the house. Burns followed Fysh to the stable. He tried to resist the taking of the horses. I heard Burns tell Fysh that the goods were not his (Burns). Fysh returned with Mr. Burns and family. I was ahead and did not hear any conversation on the way down.

W. J. Battell recalled:—Saw the binder the last time I visited the house in December. It was almost directly south of the house. Saw the distance measured yesterday by my father.

Cross-examined by Nelson: Do not know positively where the machine was at the time of the seizure. But the measurement was to the point where it had been standing after being put up for the winter. Do not know exactly where the boundary line is.

To Mr. Scott, Mr. Fysh pointed out the place where the binder stood at the time of the seizure. The hole remained in the snow. It would be 10 rods from the nearest boundary line in any direction.

To the judge: The binder was west of the breaking on the east half of the section.

O. B. Fysh, recalled:—I pointed out to Mr. Battell the point where the binder stood.

DEFENCE.

John Burns, sworn, I leased a certain property from Battell. It consisted of land, implements, horses, cattle, hens, three tons of hay and some grain including 60 bushels wheat, 25 bushels of oats and 15 bushels of barley. We made some arrangement about some of the grain. He said the wheat was worth 60c a bushel and that the oats were worth 40c per bushel and the barley worth 25 cents per bushel. The hay was worth $21. The eight milch cows at $10 apiece. He said the 25 hens were worth $15 to me anyway. The use of the three horses, he said, would be worth $90. The rental of the land was to be $125. We had two conversations in reference to this.

He told me two days after the lease was drawn up that he wanted two cows released. He gave me credit for $10 each. In October another cow was released in the same way and for this I got credit for $8. It was a general credit on account of the lease. When Fysh came to make seizure he said he had come to seize. He read the warrant. I told him that I had very little outside that did not belong to other people. He said "I'm going to take them horses and binder anyway." I followed him. I took hold of the matter-trunk of one of the horses. He took away two horses owned by G. M. Annable and one more belonging to L. J. Allworth and the binder belonging to the Massey-Harris Co. He took away some harness belonging to R. E. Doran and two blankets that were on the horses. There was in the stable a brood sow and pigs. There are five rooms in the house. The sow and pigs were worth $34. I sold the sow afterwards to Annable for $24 and have been offered $10 for the pigs. I had 12 bushels of wheat in the house. I sold this for about $34. The oats were worth $3.00, the barley worth $1.50, the potatoes were worth $10.50. There was some hay worth $10.50. The oak bed room set was worth $32. There were 6 new chairs worth $3. The cooking stove was worth $27. I

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Times,

DEAR SIR
In the issue of the Standard (a small sheet issued weekly at Regina) of the 6th inst. the Editor takes upon himself to criticise the remarks I made in defence of myself re the Moose Jaw School Board. I feel satisfied that had this ex-pedagogue taken a little more pains to find out the particulars of the case before flying at conclusions he would have written differently.

He must recollect that at this late date in the 19th century children who have arrived at the age of fifteen or sixteen years cannot be "baldooned" into doing anything. This perhaps may have been his style when he taught the young idea how to shoot but it is not so now. I also think he has asked his informant for a little more light on this matter he probably would not have been so sympathetic towards me and my boy and so keen to uphold either teachers or School Board. And I trust in future when he undertakes to write editorials on the merits or demerits of a case he will endeavor to get at least a portion of both sides of the question and not be so narrow minded as to criticise on a mere suggestion thrown out by a disinterested party.

Yours respectfully,

W. A. PORTER.

Mr. Howard McLeod Loses His Life While Attempting to Cross the River.

Wednesday afternoon a young man by the name of Howard McLeod procured a pony and cart from Mr. Jas. Ostrander to drive out to the residence of Mr. John Urton about six miles south of Moose Jaw. He appears to have crossed the bridge and taken the trail over the hill as a rig of this description was seen approaching the ford south of town about four o'clock by the family of Mr. T. W. Aspin who resides in the vicinity. The rig not appearing on the other side in due time nor seen returning, considerable uneasiness was felt as to the safety of the occupant. When Mr. Aspin, who was absent returned home about six o'clock he was informed of the occurrence and knowing the danger of crossing during the present high water he reported the matter in town the same evening. Thursday morning a messenger was despatched to Mr. Urton's who, upon enquiring, found out McLeod had not been there. A search party was organized, and with poles and grappling irons the ice jams were kept moving and the stream trod. About three o'clock in the afternoon the pony and cart were seen during the moving of a jam of ice but almost immediately disappeared. Later on a piece of the cart was fished out.

Although no traces of the young man was found he has undoubtedly met the same fate as the horse.

As near as can be learned Mr. McLeod was about twenty one or two years of age and although considerable of a runner, originally came from Essex Co., where it is supposed his friends now reside. He has been working for Messrs. Ferguson & Wright during the winter months, but recently has been employed by Mr. D. McVannell.

The single cart track to the water's edge, the dead pony in the stream, are simple facts that proclaim another of those unexplainable circumstances that accidentally carry a man to that great beyond.

COAL PROSPECTS.

Cheap Coal Anticipated For The Moose Jaw District.

Mr. Arthur Hitchcock and Mr. Seymour Green have been corresponding with Professor Selwyn, of the Geological Department at Ottawa, with a view of having a survey made of the district south of the town, to find out whether there is coal in sufficient quantities, of a good enough quality to warrant its being worked. As the result of this correspondence, we have appended with their permission a copy of the last letter received from Prof. Selwyn. These enquiries have been made with a view of benefiting the whole district, and not with any intention of starting a private company, therefore we are requested to ask all parties who have found any indications of coal within twenty five miles of Moose Jaw, to leave particulars of the same at the office of Mr. Seymour Green, so that Mr. Selwyn upon his arrival can be driven out to these points and inspect. This is a very important matter for the whole district, and may be the means of providing cheap fuel for town and district.

THE IMPORTANT LETTER.

Alfred R. C. Selwyn,
C.M.G., LL.D., F.R.S.,
Ottawa.

Seymour Green, Esq.,

DEAR SIR:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 11th inst., and in reply, beg to state that I shall make a point of visiting the Moose Jaw District somewhat later on. I have not much doubt that large tracts of the country south of Moose Jaw, will be found to be underlaid with beds of lignite, similar to those now being worked at and in the vicinity of Estevan.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
ALFRED R. C. SELWYN.
